Previous step

- After submission, Oceanpayment Compliance Team will conduct a bank account review, and you can check the review status in the system

(1) CNY currency: the status of "Normal" (no need to file) means that this bank account is available.

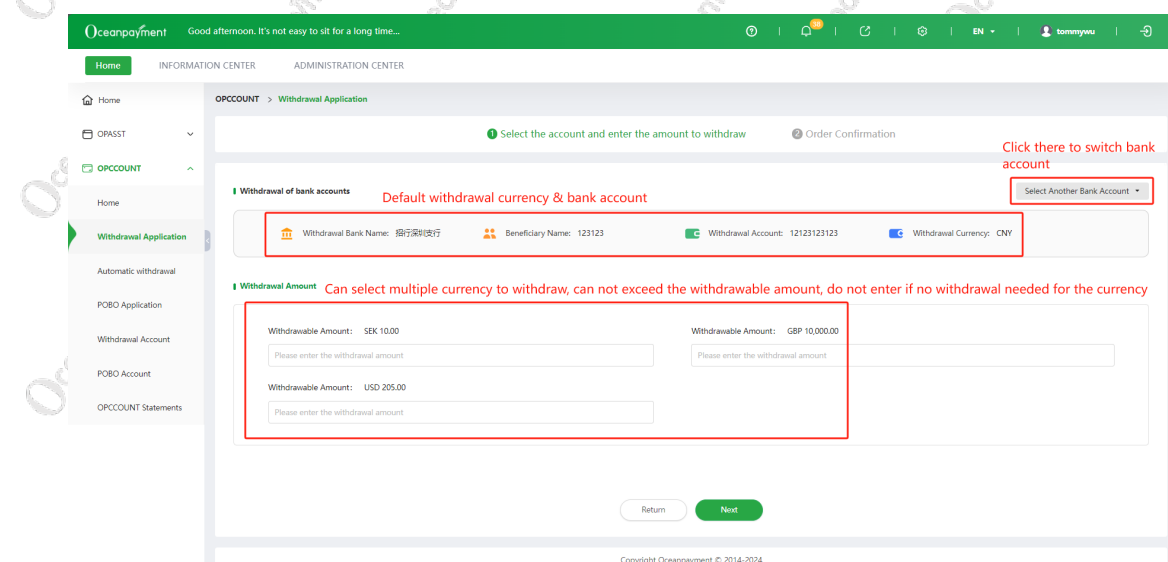

(2) Foreign Currency: A status of "Normal" and a filing status of "Filed" indicates that the bank account is available.

(3) Available accounts can be modified, deleted or set as default accounts.

4. Manual Withdrawal

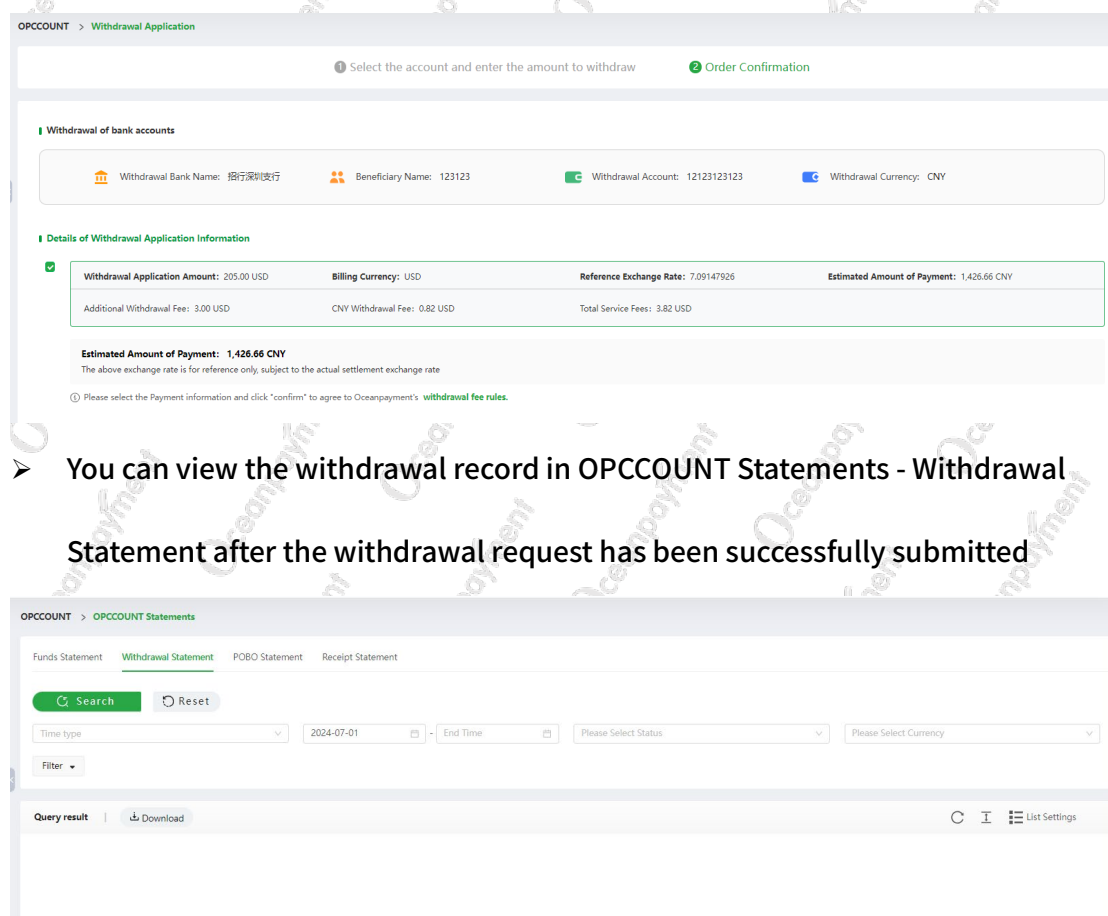

- Select the bank account you want to withdraw to, fill in the amount, you can select single or multiple billing currencies at the same time.

- After you have filled in the form, click next step to the Order Confirmation page, you can check the reference real-time exchange rate and handling fee (support 7*24 hours exchange):

- (1) Tick the box on the left of the data to be withdrawn and click OK 确定, then the application for withdrawal of the ticked amount will be initiated successfully.
- (2) If you don't want to continue the withdrawal process, you can click Cancel 取消 and re-initiate the withdrawal application later.

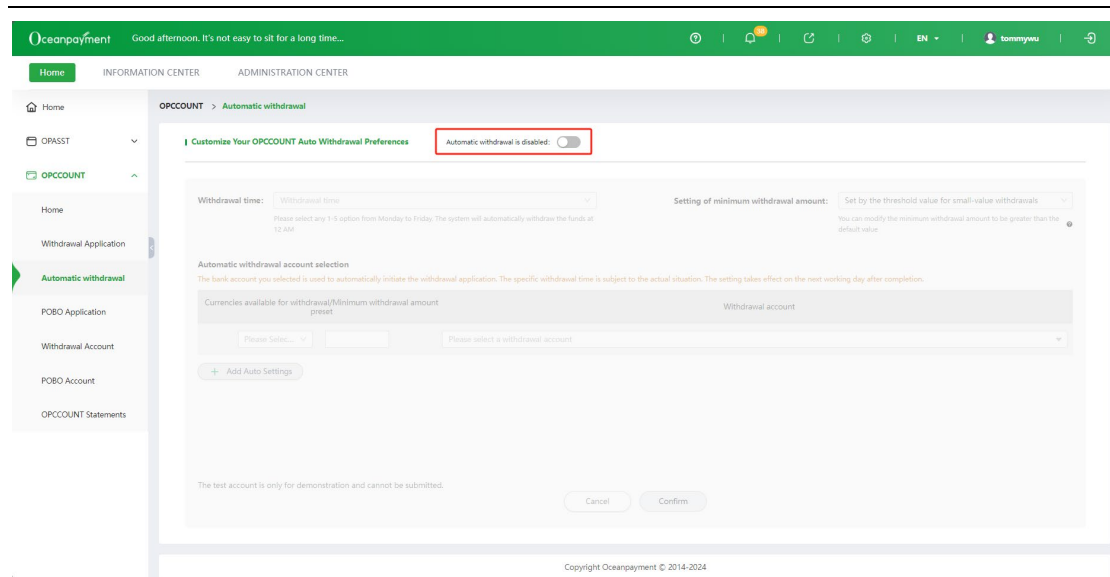

The screenshot shows the 'Withdrawal Application' page in the OPCCOUNT system. It includes a progress bar with two steps: 'Select the account and enter the amount to withdraw' (active) and 'Order Confirmation'. Below this, there's a section for 'Withdrawal of bank accounts' with fields for 'Withdrawal Bank Name' (招商银行), 'Beneficiary Name' (123123), 'Withdrawal Account' (12123123123), and 'Withdrawal Currency' (CNY). A 'Details of Withdrawal Application Information' section shows a table with withdrawal amount (205.00 USD), billing currency (USD), reference exchange rate (7.09147926), and estimated amount of payment (1,426.66 CNY). It also lists fees: Additional Withdrawal Fee (3.00 USD), CNY Withdrawal Fee (0.82 USD), and Total Service Fees (3.82 USD). A note states the estimated amount is 1,426.66 CNY and is for reference only. A footer note asks the user to select payment information and click 'confirm' to agree to the withdrawal fee rules.

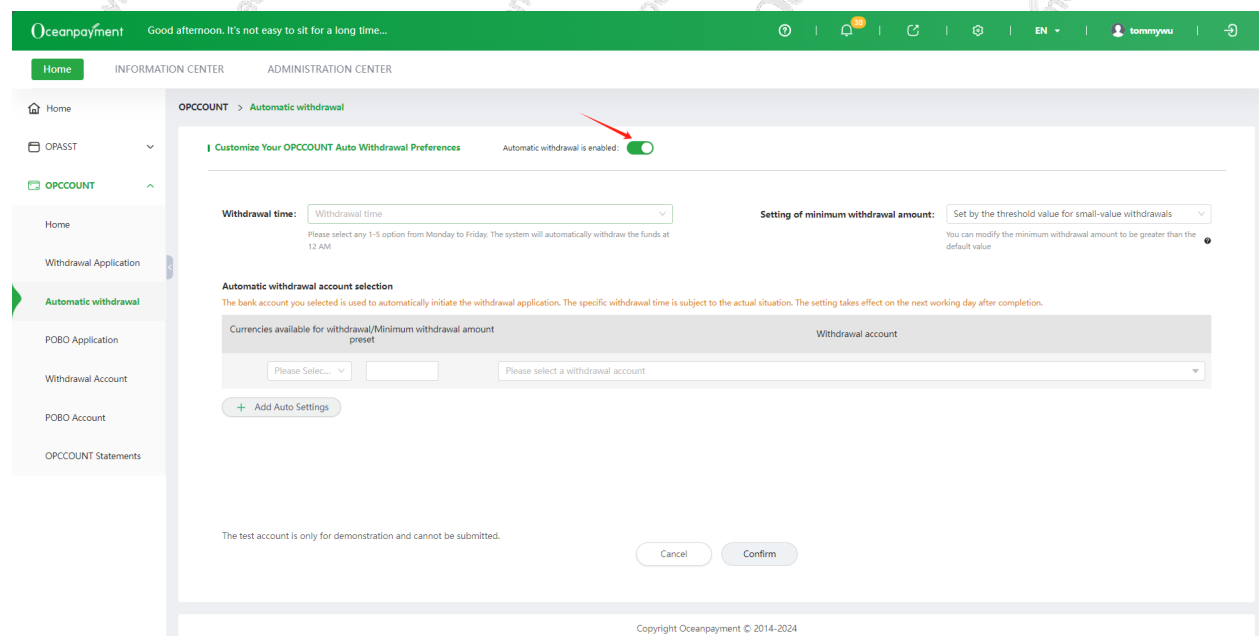

➤ You can view the withdrawal record in OPCCOUNT Statements - Withdrawal Statement after the withdrawal request has been successfully submitted

5. Automatic withdrawal setting

- (1) Enable Automatic withdrawal
- Click Automatic withdrawal to access the setting page

- Automatic withdrawal is disabled by default
- Click the button to enable automatic withdrawal, the currency to be withdrawn must select the corresponding withdrawal account to select the configuration information, click the OK button to save the current configuration information

(2) Automatic withdrawal configuration

- Withdrawal time: You can choose Monday to Friday and it is a multiple choice, mandatory option. (It is not possible to distinguish between holidays for the time being, and we will notify you in advance if we are unable to complete the payment in case of a holiday.) Based on the small-value withdrawal threshold that was set. When your withdrawable balance exceeds the small withdrawal threshold, the withdrawal is initiated, saving you the relatively small handling fee. When your available balance exceeds the minimum withdrawal amount, a withdrawal is initiated which may result in small-amount transaction fees. Then exact amount will be determined by your available balance at the time you initiate the withdrawal

- Auto Withdrawal Account Selection: Select the account that you need to complete the automatic withdrawal of funds into the account, click on the final confirmation, the second working day after the completion of the settings to take effect. Please make arrangements in advance.

Withdrawal time: Tuesday x Please select any 1-5 option from Monday to Friday. The system will automatically withdraw the funds at 12 AM	Setting of minimum withdrawal amount: Set by the threshold value for small-value withdrawals You can modify the minimum withdrawal amount to be greater than the default value

Automatic withdrawal account selection
The bank account you selected is used to automatically initiate the withdrawal application. The specific withdrawal time is subject to the actual situation. The setting takes effect on the next working day after completion.

6. Description of the Full Amount Withdrawal

For accounts without Full Amount Payment function, if there is no Full Amount Payment Management setting button on the Withdrawal Accounts Management page, there is no need to set up the operation. (This function is currently only supported for foreign currency withdrawals and substitute payment accounts).

If the Full Amount Payment function has been enabled on the account, there is a Full Amount Payment Management setting button on the Manage Withdrawal Account page.

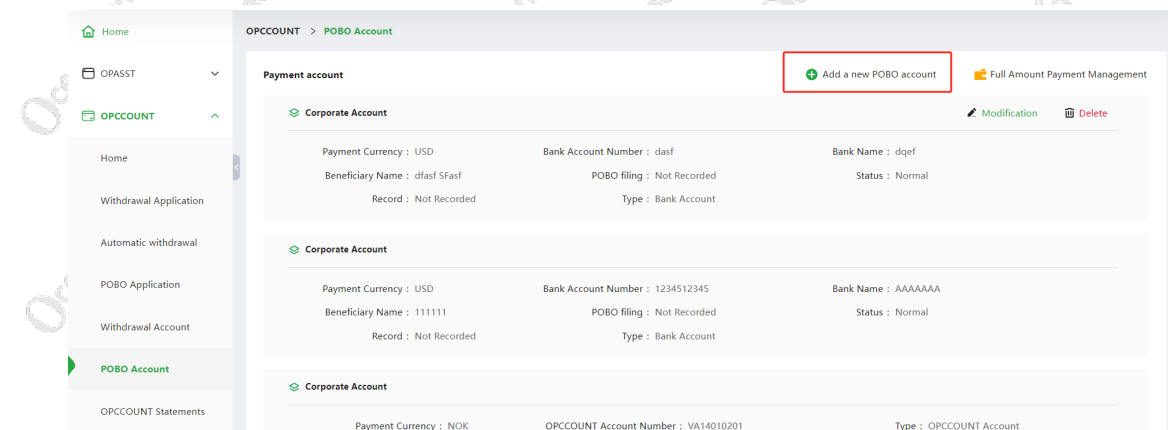

- Click full amount payment management button to set up
